IN THE BLACK AT JUMPSUIT LAUNCH

VIPs proved that style was in their jeans as they gathered at Asian gastronomic hotspot Black Roe in London's Mayfair. Partygoers including presenter Kirsty Gallacher, interior design guru Kelly Hoppen and singer Frankie Bridge all dressed in denim designer Donna Ida's new Cassandra jumpsuit to honour its debut. Surrounded by the exotic décor of the venue's private dining area, The Rambutan Room, guests sat down to a meal of grilled scallops and shumai gyoza.

FASHIONISTAS SHINE IN THE CITY OF LIGHT

Fresh from the front row at Milan Fashion Week, catwalk queen Lady Kitty Spencer brought her effortless style to Paris. Diana, Princess of Wales's niece looked effortlessly stunning in a forest green jumpsuit as she joined designer sisters Nicky and Simone Zimmermann to toast their brand new boutique in the City of Light with an intimate evening of dinner and cocktails. Lady Kitty's fellow runway belles Pixie Geldof and Isabeli Fontana, and actresses Melissa George and Kaya Scodelario, were also among guests wearing stylish pieces from the Zimmermann label, which last week dressed Princess Beatrice for her engagement photos. "It's like a dream to open up a store in Paris and we wanted to mark the occasion in a very Parisian way," said brand co-founder and creative director Nicky of the glitzy evening, held at restaurant Apicius's enchanting mansion and gardens. She added: "We are excited to be a part of one of the most beautiful cities in the world."

STARS RAISE A GLASS TO LONDON'S NEWEST EATERY

An evening of fizz, fun and great food was on the menu as East London welcomed an exciting new restaurant. Stars descended on trendy hotel The Stratford to toast the opening of Allegra on the seventh floor, which offers unrivalled views of London's skyline. Attendees including health campaigner Hum Fleming, former Ladies of London star Noelle Reno and fashion designer Henry Holland enjoyed sake-steamed turbot and whipped coffee custard, washed down with Perrier-Jouët champagne.

SUSTAINABLE SOIRÉE FOR ECO-INNOVATOR

Event organiser Yasmin Mills was joined by proud daughters Lauren and Maddie to fête the launch of her sustainable lifestyle brand Ecofetes at its West London studio. Actresses Camilla Rutherford and Sadie Frost and model agency founder Aicha McKenzie were among those enjoying organic wines and cocktails in Ecofetes glasses made from recycled glass. Yasmin's chef boyfriend Justin Horne runs the studio with her and created a delicious vegetarian organic menu for the event.
